

Bhutan Straight-through Bridge

Overview

Stretching gracefully over the glacial-fed waters of the Pho Chhu (Male River), the Punakha Suspension Bridge is not only the longest of its kind in Bhutan but also one of the most scenic and thrilling spots to visit in the Punakha Valley. This is a list of bridges and viaducts in Bhutan, including those for pedestrians and vehicular traffic. Cantilever beams were developed in order to cross increasingly wide streams or rivers, where simple wooden beams had a limited range of about 10 meters. Spanning 160 meters, this bridge is recognized as the longest suspension bridge in Bhutan, offering travelers an unforgettable experience. The Suspension Bridge in Punakha, known as the Bhutanese Chhu Zang, is one of the longest suspension bridges in the country, stretching over 160 meters (525 feet) across the roaring Pho Chhu (Father River). As you approach the bridge, you'll feel a sense of anticipation build.
