Overview

Turn on the equipment and perform the following steps: Check the error messages in the signal generator and spectrum analyzer. If possible, correct the conditions indicated by the messages. Ensure that the signal analyzer and signal generator connectors are clean and in good. TI's MSP-SA430-SUB1GHZ Spectrum Analyzer is an easy-to-use and affordable tool to jumpstart radio frequency (RF) development in the sub-GHz frequency range. It is available for download on our support site: It is the same Spectrum Analyzer tool, but made as a native executable instead of Java Web Start so you don't have to mess with Java settings in your browser. This is the first time I've installed the Spectrum Analyser on the Win10 machine, but I checked the Documents folder anyway (odd place for a program to keep. I tried uninstalling Spectrum Analyser, manually. When using the Spectrum Analyzer block from the RF Toolbox, I am getting a license checkout error indicating a DSP Toolbox license isn't available.
